TOGETHER AS ONE

The origin of the word ‘festival’ can be traced to the Latin ‘Festa’, which means ‘a religious holiday’. However, the term ‘festivalis’, which is used as an adjective form of ‘Festa’ in French, came into English. It was used for the days that were celebrated as religious feasts. The adjective became a noun in time, as people stopped talking about ‘festival days’ and shortened it to ‘festivals’. The festivals play an important role in acting as stress relievers and help us balance our emotions from day to day, the exhausting routine of life, and inspiring us to remember the important things and moments in life. Festivals were started to pass the legends, knowledge and traditions to the next generation. National, religious and seasonal festivals all provide an opportunity to celebrate traditions in history and make more people aware of them to carry on the experience. They all serve the purpose of bringing happiness to our lives and strengthening our sense of nation. In simple terms, universally, all festivals are related to harmony, peace and happiness. Because we are made to spread happiness, celebrations are the reasons that motivate us to be better people and share the joy with the world. The excitement of the new dresses, gifts, the bright lights, flowers, foods, music is not just the thing that brings happiness to our surroundings; it’s actually the sense of belonging, the connection that we all feel with each other during festivals. In short, nothing brings people together as festivals do, so what festival we are joining tomorrow?
